

SPECIAL HONOR FOR "UNKNOWN"

Unmarked Graves of Nation's Defenders To Be Adorned on Memorial Day.

the veterans of '61 and '63, whose ranks are fearfully thinned by pitiless time, are expected to be present at the National Cemetery services, as many of those who form the small army of veteran warriors left will go to the Gettysburg battlefield to attend the reunion and exercises to be held there.

Services at Arlington.
Services at Arlington will be under the auspices of the Army of the Potomac, G. A. R. Headed by the standard bearer of their respective posts, the members of the G. A. R. will assemble in Pennsylvania avenue northwest, near Fourteenth street, at 9:30 o'clock. The G. A. R. will form on the south side of the Avenue, right resting on Fifteenth street; the United Spanish War Veterans on the north side of the Avenue, right resting on Fifteenth street; and the Army and Navy Union on their left. The column will move at 10 o'clock over the following route: West to Sixteenth street, north to Pennsylvania avenue, east to Fifteenth street, south to Pennsylvania, east to Thirtieth street and south to Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon electric cars, and via the railway to Arlington.

Form Before Marching.
In front of the Arlington mansion the procession comprising members of the G. A. R., Woman's Relief Corps, Daughters of Veterans, Army and Navy Union, invited guests and the public will form at 11:30 o'clock.

Passing through the cemetery the procession will make its way to the "Tomb of the Unknown," where a halt will be made. The tomb will be decorated with flowers and flags by a special committee from the auxiliary societies, the band playing a dirge while the decoration is being made.

When the services at the "Tomb of the Unknown" are concluded the procession will make its way by the main road to the Spanish war section of the cemetery. To participate in the placing of floral tributes on the graves in this section the procession will separate. During the placing of the wreaths and other floral designs appropriate selections will be played by the band.

With the playing of Chopin's "Funeral March" by the Marine Band the patriotic organizations will assemble in the Arlington amphitheater. Then the band will play, "Weaver, My God, To Thee," and Department Commander Thomas H. McKee will call the assembly to order. Department Chaplain N. H. Holmes will deliver the invocation. The band will play "Inflammatus" from Rossini's "Stabat Mater." Osborn H. Oldroyd, assistant adjutant general of the department will give the "Reading of Orders." Then Past Department Commander George H. Graybaugh will read Gen. John A. Logan's order establishing Memorial Day.

Teaser Solo Next.
"Daybreak at Appomattox" will be the title of a teaser solo to be given by George H. Lillibridge, Lincoln's Gettysburg address will be delivered by Charles B. Hazard, Mrs. Isabel Worrell Ball, national senior vice president of the Woman's Relief Corps will give a reading, "Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers."

Rev. James Shera Montgomery will be the orator of the occasion. "Taps" by the band will conclude the exercises. Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois will deliver the oration at the services to be held at the National Cemetery, Soldiers' Home. The exercises will begin at 3:30 a. m. and will be under the direction of Dr. J. K. Gleason, senior vice department commander, G. A. R. The parade will form at the Scott building, in the home grounds, at 9:30 sharp, and march to the speakers' stand. Music will be furnished by the Soldiers' Home Band.

William E. Andrews, Auditor of the Treasury, will be the principal speaker at the Congressional Cemetery exercises, which are to be held under the direction of Comrade L. H. Patterson, junior vice department commander. The exercises will begin at 10 a. m. with the sounding of reveille and assembly and the bugles of the United States Grenadier Band, which will furnish the music for the exercises.

Former Congressman Mercer of Nebraska will deliver the oration at the exercises to be held at the Battle Ground National Cemetery, at Brightwood, D. C., which begin at 1:30 p. m. The exercises will be held under the direction of Capt. Newton M. Brooks, post department commander, G. A. R., and Louis P. Shoemaker, The Soldiers' Home Band, under the direction of Prof. John S. M. Zimmerman, will furnish the music.

Services at Glenwood.
Services will be held at Glenwood, Prospect Hill, and St. Mary's cemeteries, under the direction of W. H. H. Price, commander of George H. Thomas Post, G. A. R., No. 15. Those intending to participate in the exercises at these places will assemble in the chapel at Glenwood Cemetery at 10:30 a. m. At Harmony Cemetery the exercises will be under the auspices of Frederick Douglass Post, No. 21 and will start at 1 p. m. when Commander Charles H. Douglass will call the assembly to order.

Services at the Northeast Arlington Cemetery will be held under the auspices of J. V. Butler, Alexander Oglesby and Alexander Freeman, Post No. 31.

At Holy Rood and Oak Hill Cemeteries the services will be under the auspices of the Maryland division, Sons of Veterans. The exercises at Holy Rood will begin at 9:30 a. m. with decoration of graves by Sons of Veterans Auxiliary to Cushing Camp. At 10 a. m. those participating will assemble at the entrance of the cemetery and march to the stand erected for the exercises. The services at Oak Hill will be conducted immediately after the Holy Rood services.

At Mt. Olivet.
Under the auspices of Lincoln Camp, No. 2, Sons of Veterans, the exercises at Mt. Olivet Cemetery will be conducted, beginning at 3:30 p. m. Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington, will be the orator of the occasion, and Rev. Father Clarence Whelan of the Church of the Holy Comforter, will pronounce the benediction. Members of John A. Logan Post, No. 1.

Will Take Prominent Parts in Exercises on Memorial Day

JOHN M. HICKEY and CONGRESSMAN KIRKPATRICK OF IOWA.

G. A. R. will have charge of the exercises at St. Elizabeth Cemetery, which will be conducted on Sunday. The exercises will start at 3 p. m. Congressman Julius Kahn of California and Congressman L. C. Dyer of Missouri, Department Commander Thomas H. McKee, G. A. R., Department Commander J. A. Costello, U. S. W. A. and others will make addresses, and the Rev. Father P. Egan of St. Teresa's Catholic Church, will pronounce the benediction.

Congressman Who Is Civil War Veteran Got Wounds in Civil Life

Commissioner of Pensions Saltzgaber, Congressman Kirkpatrick and former of Iowa, and Major McElroy, editor of the National Tribune, left today for Annapolis, Md., where tonight they will take part in a campfire preceding the observance of Memorial Day. En route they visited the battlefields of Frederick, Sharpsburg, South Mountain and Boonsboro. The Memorial Day program tomorrow will be held on the spot where, a half century ago, the memorable battle of Antietam was fought.

One of the principal Memorial Day addresses at Annapolis will be made by Congressman Kirkpatrick, a new member from Iowa, who has had an unusual career. Escaping unscathed from his service in the civil war, Mr. Kirkpatrick entered the Internal Revenue Service and was literally shot full of lead during his twenty-three years' service. He carries 200 pieces of lead in his body, and is totally blind in one eye and partially blind in the other, as the result of successive raids on "still" in his fight with North Carolina moonshiners.

Government Printers Honor Their Dead

Government printers today honored the heroes of everyday life—the men and women of the labor world—with memorial exercises in the big Government Printing.

At 12 o'clock the printers stopped the typesetting machines and printing presses stopped grinding, and gathered on the seventh floor to pay brief tribute to their dead comrades.

Public Printer Donnelly was the chairman, and he spoke briefly on the spirit of the occasion. Congressman Thomas H. McKee of Mississippi, the chief speaker, laid verbal laurels on the graves of men and women who had served the Government in the busy printingery. His speech contained no word of war; it was the tribute to the plain, everyday man, whose life struggle is before him unnoticed by the public. He called the speech a Labor Day memorial—not a Memorial Day address.

At 1 o'clock the memorial service

MISS ELIZA C. HUGHES, Who Came From Philadelphia to Decorate Brother's Grave.

Will Deck Grave With Flag-Draped Picture

Worried by her search through departments, Miss Eliza C. Hughes is still hunting the war record of her brother, Daniel Webster Hughes, whose faded picture she plans to place on his grave in Arlington tomorrow.

Her visit to the War Department proved unsatisfactory. She was passed along from office to office with the reply that somebody else had charge of such records as she desired.

The aged woman, however, is not yet ready to quit. "Somebody, somewhere in this town, must have information about the District volunteers, with which my brother served," she declared. "I guess they ought to know about it, for the volunteers saved the White House."

She is of the opinion that her brother was at one time a page in the Senate. Tomorrow she will take the flag-draped picture, pin a flower to it, start early for Arlington Cemetery and there lay it on the grave and guard it for several hours. Then she will start back to her home in Philadelphia.

THOUSANDS KEEP POSLAM HANDY ALL THE TIME

A jar of Poslam ready at hand is certain insurance against skin affections, serious or slight, which may annoy any member of the family at any time.

In quickly disposing of pimples and rashes, taking soreness out of burns, scalds, stings, curing itching feet, scaly scalp, etc., Poslam—noted for its remarkable work in the cure of eczema, acne, and like serious skin diseases—has become a veritable household remedy. It is an active antiseptic, soothes, cools and subdues inflammation.

POS-LAM SOAP, used daily for toilet and bath, will keep the skin in healthy condition, and improve its color and texture. It offers the healing medication of Poslam in a form particularly beneficial for tender skin.

All druggists sell Poslam (price, 50 cents) and Poslam soap (price, 25 cents). For free samples, write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 5th Street, New York City—Advt.
